President Confers With Solons On Silver Legislation

VIEWS ARE EXCHANGED AT PARLEY

CONFEREES SILENT

Senator Borah Among Those Who Pay Visit To Roosevelt At Capitol

WASHINGTON, April 21.—(UP)—President Roosevelt talked silver around the table with senate leaders today and reviewed the entire world monetary situation.

The conferees, reluctant to discuss what had transpired in the executive offices, indicated that little if any progress was made and that silver legislation at this session of congress still was in the discussion stage.

The following statement was issued by Secretary Stephen T. Early when the meeting broke up: "There was a thorough discussion of the whole world monetary question including gold and silver and there will be further conferences."

The delegation left the capitol for the White House after an informal meeting at which it was decided to stress the view that legislation requiring action to rehabilitate silver was essential to improve the economic situation, remove debts and stimulate business.

Sen. William E. Borah, R. Ida., who had been lukewarm toward the contemplated call upon President Roosevelt, attended the capitol meeting and joined in the White House visit.

Others in the delegation were senators William H. King, D. Utah, chairman of the silver bill's steering committee, Alva B. Adams, D. Colo., Pat McCarran, D. Nev., and Elmer Thomas, D. Okla. Sen. Henrik Shipstead, F. L. Minn., planned to join the group at the White House.

"We called the president's attention to the various silver bills which are pending, stressing our belief that mandatory instead of merely permissive legislation is necessary," said King.

"Permissive legislation is not enough."

POSTOFFICE BUDGET REPORTED BALANCED

NEWARK, N. J., April 21.—(UP)—For the first time in many years the post office department budget is balanced and the postal service is on its way to becoming a "revenue producer," Postmaster General James A. Farley said today at dedication exercises of the new Federal building here.

"I feel that the public is entitled to have its post office department operated without any cost to the taxpayers," Farley said. He characterized as a "sound policy" Alexander Hamilton's belief that the postal service should be a "revenue producer."

UNITED STATES FLEET ARRIVES AT CANAL ZONE

Fifty Thousand Officers And Men Given Leaves Over Week End

BOARD THE U. S. S. CALIFORNIA, WITH THE UNITED STATES FLEET, AT SEA, April 21.—(By Radio to the United Press.)—The most spectacular air combat of peace times today opened a simulated attack on the Panama canal to determine whether the isthmian waterway and its defenses are the "Achilles heel" of the American national defense.

The Canal Zone fortifications were revealed mercilessly by the parachute flares dropped in the early dawn by the force of "attacking" planes from the United States fleet.

Beneath scudding clouds of a tropical sunrise, the warships clashed theoretically with the full strength of the army and navy forces stationed at the canal zone to guard the vital link between the eastern and western shores.

As Admiral David Sellers' gray "bulldogs" of the sea advanced into the Gulf of Panama, 150 defending planes engaged the superior air forces of the fleet in simulated combat. Anti-aircraft batteries from the forts roared defiance.

The great display of America's naval and coastal defense strength climaxed 12 days of constant maneuvers for the fleet. When observers have decided which force has emerged victorious, the fleet will ride to anchor in a grand review.

By noon the warships which left Southern California ports two weeks ago will stand idle, while their crews rush ashore for a welcomed holiday.

A week-end of gala entertainment was planned for the 50,000 officers and men en route to the Atlantic seaboard. Athletic programs and social functions were arranged to entertain the naval officers and the sailors.

The seamen will have about two weeks' liberty, as the 100 warships will be taken through the canal at widely spaced intervals to avoid interference with commercial ships.

CONVICTS USED TO DO WORK OF MULES

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 21.—(UP)—State prison farms officials today took convicts out of the traces and substituted mules.

Gov. J. M. Fulton ordered an immediate halt to the practice of harnessing convicts to corn planters as mules ordinarily are harnessed.

"No civilized state can permit such a practice to continue," he said. "I regard such a practice as indefensible and reprehensible."

Prison officials said it was no harder than ordinary manual labor. Besides, there was a shortage of mules.

PLANES CONTINUE ALEUTIAN FLIGHT

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 21.—(UP)—Five Navy amphibian planes of VJ-1 squadron left Sacramento municipal airport at 8:40 a. m., on the second leg of their flight to the Aleutian islands, where they are to engage in a survey of aerological conditions.

The planes will land at Medford, Ore., continuing later in the day to Eugene, where an overnight stop is planned.

The ships, carrying 15 men under command of Lieutenant Commander G. T. Owen, arrived here yesterday from San Diego, starting point of the flight.

Rail Workers Decline To Give Answer

WASHINGTON, April 21.—(UP)—Railroad labor leaders today refused to accept immediately President Roosevelt's proposal that workers continue under the present 10 per cent wage reduction for six months.

When Joseph B. Eastman, federal coordinator of transportation, called upon union leaders for an answer, they discussed the question briefly and said a final decision could not be reached until they had further instructions from workers.

LEAGUE SEEKS SHOW DOWN ON JAPAN POLICY

Leaders Frankly Worried Over Chinese "Hands-Off" Attitude

GENEVA, April 21.—(UP)—Japan's startling "hands off" Chinese declarations may be raised in what will amount to a world conference when the League of Nations committee on Manchukuo meets here May 14, it was indicated today.

League of Nations officials, already chagrined over the complete defeat of the league's efforts to curb activities of Japan in Manchukuo, took a most serious view of the latest Tokyo statements.

Confronted with a new step forward in Japan's aim to assert full leadership in eastern Asia, league officials seemed inclined to favor a showdown and to welcome a general discussion of far eastern affairs at the May 14 meeting, the first in nearly a year for the Manchukuo committee.

From the standpoint of the league as a body, there was no doubt that a strong stand against Japan would be welcomed. But as Geneva is but the shell of the organization, and its members have their own problems in the Far East, there was some speculation whether a "strong stand" could be adopted.

In its efforts to curb Japan's penetration into Manchuria, the league suffered a severe defeat and loss of prestige it could ill afford. Now, with Japan having announced its withdrawal from the league, and taking the position that the league has no concern with Japan's affairs, the league's position is made doubly difficult.

Until the latest developments, it had been indicated that the meeting would be one in which some delegates demanded that as a practical matter, aside from diplomatic niceties, league members ought to recognize Manchukuo.

But now, with league officials believing that Japan is defying the world, the feeling was that an approach toward recognition would only be a confession of helplessness.

"The bill was introduced by the brothers Bankhead, Sen. John H. and Rep. William B., who represent Alabama."

RESCUE MAN AFTER EIGHTY FOOT FALL

Moulton is being packed out of the gorge on a stretcher by a group of 25 men who went to his aid after reports of the accident reached here.

Moulton and two companions, all from Flagstaff, had started down the canyon wall when Moulton lost his foothold and fell.

SEEKS TO EXTEND TAX RELIEF BILL

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 21.—(UP)—Plans for further aid to California taxpayers were revealed here today when Sen. William E. Harper, San Diego, requested the state legislative counsel to prepare a bill for introduction in the next legislature extending for two years terms of the delinquent tax measure which expired yesterday.

Under provisions of the previous act, of which Senator Harper was the author at the 1933 session, all real property sold to the state for delinquent taxes and not disposed of before September 6, 1933, could be redeemed before April 20, 1934, by payment of the current assessment and paying the back taxes in 10 annual installments.

In the new bill, Senator Harper proposes to extend the advantages of this method of payment for two more years.

BANKHEAD BILL SIGNED TODAY BY ROOSEVELT

Compulsory Crop Limitation Provided In Drastring Control Measure

WASHINGTON, April 21.—(UP)—President Roosevelt signed the Bankhead cotton control bill today and embarked the nation on its first experience in compulsory crop limitation.

The act restricts this year's cotton crop to 10,000,000 bales by levying a tax of 50 per cent on production in excess of quotas assigned by the agricultural adjustment administration. Tax exemption certificates will be issued to cover amounts within quota limits.

Critics of the administration charged the Bankhead plan involves "regimentation" and is a step toward national "socialism." It is an arbitrarily imposed padlock on the right of individual to grow as much as he chooses, they said.

The bill's supporters replied that the cotton belt demanded such legislation; that no thought has been given to applying the compulsory principle to other crops.

Wallace also is afraid the high value of the tax exemption certificates may foster "a tendency to shift the emphasis on cotton production to an emphasis on the procuring of exemption certificates."

"These certificates might themselves become a commodity," he warned.

"Congress has as yet provided no special appropriation for administrative expenses. Unless it authorizes such, the revenues derived from processing taxes may be tapped."

Of the Bankhead plan, Secretary Wallace said later: "It is for only one year. You can have a good experiment in one year."

The bill was introduced by the brothers Bankhead, Sen. John H. and Rep. William B., who represent Alabama.

THIRD GANGSTER IS CAUGHT IN MISSOURI

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., April 21.—(UP)—A third member of a desperate gang which kidnaped State Trooper Chester R. Oliver and threatened to kill him, was captured today.

The gangster was captured, highway patrol headquarters announced, near Higginsville, Mo., after a second kidnapping in which he abducted a young Billingsville minister in an effort to escape.

The captured man was known only as Blackie, but was identified as a desperate former convict, officers said.

Arrest of Blackie, according to Col. B. Marvin Casteel, patrol superintendent, solved the kidnapping of Oliver, who was abducted by three hoodlums Thursday near Warsaw and released three hours later south of Booneville.

$648,000 In Wages Paid Unemployed

Summary Of Activities Is Made Public In Report By County Director

THE CIVIL Works Administration spent a total of $621,000 covering 143 projects, in Orange County, slightly more than $648,000 going through CWA payrolls into the pockets of the county's unemployed, and through them into channels of local trade, it was shown today in a report of County Director R. W. Ramsey, summarizing the record of the big winter employment drive.

Besides the large sum spent for labor, $77,500 was spent for materials, and equipment rented or under contract.

The contributions of local political subdivisions toward completion of their projects amounted to approximately $35,500, said the report. The total of 143 projects includes 128 field projects involving construction and improvements, seven Civil Works Service projects and eight federal census projects.

The biggest single construction project, also said to be the largest structure built by CWA labor in California, was the reinforced concrete stadium section at Fullerton High school and Junior college. This project involved a total expenditure of $82,582 and employed in excess of 300 men continuously, most of them being skilled mechanics.

Covered Wide Field
Projects pursued, said the report, covered a wide field of activity, represented in the following general groupings: 23 projects for improvement or construction of public buildings and schools; 19 projects for parks, recreational activities and playgrounds; 12 projects involving street and sidewalk improvements in cities; 12 projects for county road improvements; 11 projects for construction of firebreaks and motorways in forest areas; four flood control projects, two being of major dimensions on Brea creek and Coyote creek; eight sewage and drainage construction jobs; seven pest control projects; six projects for agricultural and health departments; seven projects for street tree planting, tree surgery or trimming; three bridges; the municipal reservoir at La Habra and municipal pier at San Clemente were improved; four garden and wood-cutting projects in conjunction with unemployed associations.

CONTRACTS FOR AIRMAIL TO BE AWARDED SOON

Expectations Commercial Lines To Be Handling Mail Before Month's End

WASHINGTON, April 21.—(UP)—Proposals of commercial air mail planes, stilled by order of Postmaster General James A. Farley on February 9, will whirl again before the end of the month postal officials promised today as they began consideration of bids on temporary contracts for 17 routes.

Examination of the 45 bids showed that all competing airlines had offered to renew operations at lower rates than were paid under their former contracts.

Routes on which the post office department fixed maximum rates of from 41 to 45 cents per mile were bid at prices so low that Farley and his aides appeared astounded. In one instance, an independent company which never held a government contract offered to operate between Chicago and New Orleans for 17 1/2 cents a mile.

Huge Savings
"A considerable saving to the government is assured by these bids," Farley said. "The competition appeared to be keen and bonafide."

Airline executives expressed surprise at the offers submitted by E. L. Cord, wealthy automobile and aircraft manufacturer, whose companies operated a dozen major routes before their contracts were cancelled.

American Airlines, Inc., principal Cord company, was underbid on all but one of seven routes on which it submitted offers. Its low bid of 33 1/3 cents on the Boston-Newark route was uncontested. Under former contracts, the Cord concerns were paid an average of 38 1/2 cents.

Low Offers
United Airlines, which controlled one of the two central transcontinental routes, the Chicago-Dallas-Texas route and two systems on the west coast, was paid $1.02 per mile in 1925. Its payments dropped to 36 cents on July 1, 1933, and its offers for the temporary service over the same routes ranged from 38 to 39 1/2 cents.

Transcontinental and Western Air, which obtained one of the central coast-to-coast routes from Former Postmaster General Walter F. Brown at a rate of more than a dollar-per-mile, came down to 24 cents.

The bid openings caused congressional air mail developments to fade into the background. The senate continued debate on the controversial Black-McKellar bill. It agreed to limit speeches after 5 p. m., April 26.

A $5,000,000 appropriation for purchase of new planes for the army and for an investigation of the army air corps was approved and sent to the house for final action.

FEEL EARTH SHOCKS

LOS ANGELES, April 21.—(UP)—The suburban towns of Huntington Park, Walnut Park and South Gate were jarred by a slight earthquake shortly after 8 p. m. last night. No damage was reported in police reports today. The shock was not felt in Los Angeles.

SAMUEL INSULL IS GLAD LONG CHASE IS OVER

Declares He's Old And Sick And Can't Continue His Fight Any Longer

A BOARD S. S. EXILONA, OFF NORTH AFRICAN COAST, April 21.—(UP)—Samuel Insull, fugitive American financier, is "glad the long chase is over," he told the United Press today as the vessel bringing him to the United States for trial fought its way through heavy seas along the African coast.

The white-haired fugitive, wanted in Chicago in connection with the collapse of his vast utilities empire, appeared relieved as he told his reactions to the months-long attempts to return him to the United States.

"To tell you the frank truth, I'm glad the long chase is over," he confided to the United Press correspondent aboard the vessel. "While I really wish I still had my liberty, nevertheless I got 'fed up' with it all."

Insull referred to the strenuous efforts of American authorities to return him to the United States, efforts which sent him scurrying from one European country to another in search of refuge guaranteed by the lack of extradition treaties with the American government.

"You know," he added, "I'm an old man and sick. I finally felt I could not continue my fight against the United States government. I never knew a moment's peace, so I threw in the sponge."

While the white-haired former utilities magnate talked, canaries and other land birds fluttered around the ship. When one tiny yellow bird entered his cabin, Insull remarked that its own flight was comparable to his.

"Let the little prisoner go," he begged the pursuing deck steward.

Insull was confined to his cabin as his prison ship fought through heavy seas whipped by hot winds off the Sahara desert. As he talked his conversation was interrupted by the loud sirens of the Exilona as she felt her way cautiously through the heavy fog.

He professed being "absolutely in the dark" about plans for his arrival in the United States.

"I have arranged nothing, know nothing of the court proceedings, and have not even contacted my lawyers since I came aboard," he said.

THIRD GANGSTER IS CAUGHT IN MISSOURI

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., April 21.—(UP)—A third member of a desperate gang which kidnaped State Trooper Chester R. Oliver and threatened to kill him, was captured today.

The gangster was captured, highway patrol headquarters announced, near Higginsville, Mo., after a second kidnapping in which he abducted a young Billingsville minister in an effort to escape.

The captured man was known only as Blackie, but was identified as a desperate former convict, officers said.

Arrest of Blackie, according to Col. B. Marvin Casteel, patrol superintendent, solved the kidnapping of Oliver, who was abducted by three hoodlums Thursday near Warsaw and released three hours later south of Booneville.

MRS. PINCHOT RAPS GEN. HUGH JOHNSON

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 21.—(UP)—Terminating Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, national recovery administrator, the nation's "No. 1" chiseler on NRA codes, Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, wife of the governor of Pennsylvania, told striking holed workers here last night that she was chiseling No. 1 himself, she said.

Speaking in the national guard armory before a mass meeting of strikers and sympathizers, Mrs. Pinchot said legitimate trade unionism is the true American way of settling problems of industry.

"We in Pennsylvania are in favor of the spirit of the measure," she said. "General Johnson is responsible for all the chiseling that exists, and he is chiseling No. 1 himself," she said.

MOVE WILL BLOCK VOTE ON PETITION

Second Action Within Week Necessitated By Nullifying First Report

THREE DISSENTERS

Understood 12 of 15 Members Of Committee Vote For Favorable Report

WASHINGTON, April 21.—(UP)—The house banking and currency committee favorably reported today the McLeod bank deposit "payoff" bill in revised form, a procedure which it was believed would block a vote on the original measure by the petition route Monday.

The committee had taken similar action earlier this week but since the house was in session at the time, the report was nullified, forcing reconsideration resulting in today's second report.

The measure as reported is along the lines of the Brown "payoff" bill, for full payoff of state and national closed bank deposits of $2500 or less.

Rep. Jesse P. Wolcott, R. Mich., advocate of the McLeod bill said in his opinion the action "blocks a vote on the McLeod petition."

However Speaker Henry T. Rainey probably will be asked to rule Monday on whether the petition now is valid. He indicated today he would rule the petition "dead." Sponsors of the legislation may force a house vote on his ruling.

Twelve of the 15 members of the committee present were understood to have voted for the favorable report, and the remaining three voting "present."

CANNON'S TRIAL IN CAPITAL NEARS END

WASHINGTON, April 21.—(UP)—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., testified today in district supreme court that an examination of his books last night revealed "indications" that he had received $10,000 in cash from Former Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen of New Jersey in September, 1923, for use in his anti-Smith campaign.

Cannon told the court yesterday that he had no recollection of the Frelinghuysen contribution.

Cannon and his former secretary, Mrs. Anna Burroughs, are on trial on charges of violating the federal corrupt practices act.

As court convened, Cannon asked permission to amplify statements that he had no recollection of the $10,000 transaction.

$648,000 PAID UNEMPLOYED IN SALARIES HERE

Newport Harbor high school athletic field, tennis courts at Garden Grove high school; improvement of Capistrano high school; improvement of state parks at San Clemente and Doheny Park; development and extension of approximately 4000 feet of ocean front park and recreational grounds at Huntington Beach; development of a section of Irvine park; development of Hillcrest park; development of development of Glasswell street park, Orange, including swimming pool, tennis courts, baseball field, horse-shoe grounds, said to be one of the most complete park developments of CWA in the state; the Irvine trail and bridge path along Santiago creek from Santa Ana to Irvine park; recreational improvements in Santa Ana, including Jack Fisher park; improvements to Santa Ana Municipal Bowl and the adult recreational center on Walnut street; improvements and extensions in Anaheim city park and the parks of Laguna Beach, Newport Beach, and Westminster, and San Clemente golf course and municipal field.

School projects were scattered from Silverado school in the canyon of that name, to Capistrano high school.

Continuing the report said: "One of the difficulties encountered in an attempt to properly administer an arduous program was that of transportation of workers. These difficulties were encountered largely for the following three reasons: federal forestry projects in Santiago canyon requiring 150 men resulted in considerable travel for many workers; the workers in the coastal area, particularly in the Seal Beach, Costa Mesa and extreme southern coastal section were sometimes required to travel considerable distance to reach work; and the placement of CWA men in Santa Ana was a constant difficulty because of a lack of sufficient projects sponsored by that political subdivision, it being necessary at times to send as high as 70 per cent of the Santa Ana CWA men out of the city in order to provide work for them.

"It was the purpose of the Orange County Civil Works Administration to distribute working projects in every portion of the county in so far as it was possible; to look to the prompt payment of every man who performed labor, and except for two instances checks were distributed to every employee on Monday for work performed the preceding week. In two instances only, when the administration force was reduced, were checks distributed as late as Tuesday.

"The finest aspect of the entire CWA program, in the minds of the administration officials, was the manner in which it was accepted by the men and women who were employed. CWA employees welcomed the opportunity to work and applied themselves in such a manner that the character and progress of CWA projects in the county won the approval of state administrative and engineering officials."

WILL ROGERS says:

SANTA MONICA, April 21. (To the Editor of The Register.) See where all the brain trusters are saying the whole Wirt affair was a joke on him. In other words, they framed up to make a joke out of him; now are we right sure they ain't making a joke out of the taxpayer, too?

Japan last week announced they had taken over the supervision of China, in person, and that American, British, French, or German, would kindly take notice. But see by today's papers they claim they were a little too ambitious, and that other nations can go into China, but will have to have all passports, "visa, or is that visa," by Tokio.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

MAY FILE NEW EXHIBITION OF CHARGES IN OIL WORK IS GIVEN CONTROVERSY BY STUDENTS

Assuring more than a million dollars for the state treasury, 75 whitelock oil operators at Huntington Beach have agreed to a settlement with the state on a royalty basis for oil taken from the tideland oil pool. State Finance Director Rolland Vandegrift announced today in Los Angeles.

"All but five companies, controlling eight wells, are willing to negotiate with the state for settlement," said Vandegrift. He indicated that the state expects to collect $700,000 in back royalties and $500,000 annually in current royalties.

Vandegrift, at the same time, intimated a new weapon might be employed against "balky oil companies, in the form of charges for trespass upon state property. Two Kern county producers, in the same situation as those at Huntington Beach, have been indicted for such activities.

CONFESSION BY GIRL SOLES 25 BURGLARIES

Solving the mystery of Santa Ana's "pajama burglar," who has been burglarizing many homes here, as well as in Anaheim and Fullerton, police last night arrested Mrs. Marguerite Palmer, 204, 314 South Barton street, obtained her confession and recovered most of the loot in her home.

Although a complete check has not been made of the stolen property and houses entered, it is expected that 25 or 30 county burglaries will be cleared up and from $1000 to $1500 of stolen property recovered. Loot from eight Santa Ana homes has been identified and returned to the owners while the investigations are being continued by Santa Ana and Fullerton police.

Mrs. Palmer was arrested after she was seen in Santa Ana by Miss Dorothy Chesley of Fullerton, wearing a stolen dress from the Chesley home, 204 West Malvern street, Fullerton. Using descriptions furnished by many of the victims and the positive identification from Miss Chesley, who was a schoolmate of Mrs. Palmer at Fullerton, police went to her home last evening, where loot with an estimated value of more than $700 was found. She readily admitted the thefts and helped police trace the goods and the homes from where it had been taken.

Mental Angle

From the many peculiar angles of the case and the fact that Mrs. Palmer took far more property than she could possibly use, Chief of Police Floyd Howard and Deputy District Attorney James Davis said they were not to believe she was not fully responsible for the burglaries. They said she might be a kleptomaniac and unable to resist stealing, since she showed no hesitancy in displaying stolen goods and was especially active in her immediate neighborhood.

Police also questioned Clarence Palmer, 24, husband of the alleged burglar, but released him when it was proved that he had been working on each of the nights she had entered homes. He denied any knowledge of the burglaries and his wife insisted that he did not let him know of her activities. They have been married 18 months.

Miss Chesley was one of the heaviest losers but had about $300 of her clothing and other stolen property returned. Her home was robbed on March 3.

Detective Sergeant C. W. Wolford has been handling the investigation and finally located the burglar, with the assistance of Miss Chesley and her two companions, Miss Melvina Woodfill, 911 West Fourth street, and Miss Jean Peacock, 515 North Garnsey street. Officer E. Garner of Fullerton is assisting Wolford.

List Homes Entered

Eight of the Santa Ana homes which were entered and the property which was taken and recovered are as follows:

Mrs. Francis Norton, 805 South Barton street, April 12 and January 8, jewelry, dishes and money, value $20; Henry C. Phillips, 805 South Van Ness street, February 3, dresses, rugs, curtains, pictures, lingerie, linen, jewelry, value $100; R. G. McFadden, 924 Fairview, January 13, furniture, rugs, perfume, dresses, dressing gown, shirts, value $125.

P. J. Halliey, 809 South Garnsey street, February 19, radio bench, three purses, luncheon sets, linen, pillows, bedding, value $78; H. C. Rasmussen, 1415 Louise street, March 5, Afghan hand knitted quilt, beach sandals, value $76; E. M. Winkle, 880 South Barton street, January 27, jewelry, missing bowls, watch, value $55; Fred Wahl, 1380 South Broadway, January 9, bedding, furniture, linen, dishes, jewelry, tapestries, value $100.

Police predict that many petty thefts will remain unsolved, since small thefts from clotheslines and yards are not always reported to police. A complete check of police files in Santa Ana, Anaheim and Fullerton is being made to find possible burglaries which could be connected with the Palmer arrest.

On many of the nights when burglaries were committed, neighbors saw a woman clad in pajamas and driving a small car. As each succeeding burglary was reported, the fame of the "pajama burglar" increased. Her daring was evidenced by the fact that her car was parked directly in front of many of the burglarized homes while she was inside the house. On most of the jobs, a back screen was pulled off or a pass key used on a rear door.

Death Notices

A WORD OF COMFORT
The powers of evil tempt you to challenge God's justice and love by suggesting that your impulses are the voice of righteous indignation and outraged virtue. It is easy for an aching heart to fall to discern the poison hidden in the suggestion that you have been unfairly treated and that you are justified in rebellion against God.

Ask Him to open your eyes that you may see Him as He is and become worthy of the love He bestows for you.

VIOLATION OF PADLOCK ORDER BRINGS ARREST

Determined to halt activities of tango parlors in Orange county, Sheriff Logan Jackson closed a tango beach tango game and arrested the proprietor yesterday, following refusal of the owner to keep his parlors closed after being padlocked by sheriff's officers last week.

Roy Shaw, 30, Seal Beach, was taken before Judge Fred Smith of Seal Beach yesterday on a charge of running and conducting a lottery. He demanded a jury trial, which was set for May 3, and was released on $250 bond.

Shaw is the proprietor of Larry's tango parlor, one of two parlors closed on order of the sheriff a week ago as part of a sensational drive against vice conditions. He was warned at that time, according to officers, that he was operating in violation of the law and would be prosecuted unless he suspended operations.

Deputy Sheriffs Merle Dean, G. F. McKelvey and Special Investigator Robert Sandon of the district attorney's office served the warrant on Shaw and took him to court.

The permission to start foreclosure actions was granted to six persons who held independent incumbrances against 52 acres of the large ranch, of which 200 acres is in lemons, with the balance devoted to growing oranges and avocados. The real estate was appraised at $343,000, while total incumbrances against the real estate amounted to $323,000, leaving an equity of about $20,000.

On March 25, 1933, the Hewes Ranch company, of which D. E. Byman Huff was president, went into receiver, A. L. Mellinthe, president of Santa Ana Junior college, named as receiver. Since that time the ranch has been operated with Huff as superintendent of operations.

At 5:30 o'clock last evening, Lozano was one of three persons hurt in a wreck at First and Olive streets when cars driven by Paul Grijalva, 21, 1313 West Second street, and Oscar Forsberg, 20, 122 East Pomona street, collided.

TWO FIRST RUN PICTURES COMING TO WALKER SCREEN

Two first run films, either one of which, according to Manager Vic Walker, is good enough to carry a program alone, are billed at Walker's State theater Wednesday and Thursday.

They are "S. O. S. Iceberg," the dramatic story of adventure and heroism in the far north, and "Beggars in Ermine," which brings to the screen the revelation of a rich man's plunge to poverty and struggle back to power and success.

"S. O. S. Iceberg" was filmed in northern Greenland by a company that fought cold, exposure and hardship for six months to authentically record the story of a lost expedition. Ernst Udet, famous German flier, has an important part in the film as a rescue pilot. Rod LaRouque and Leni Riefenstahl have the leading roles. A terrific fight between a man and a polar bear is one of the high spots in this unusual story.

"Beggars in Ermine" tells the story of a man who has been tricked out of his steel mill and reduced to begging through the loss of his legs in a mill accident. He organizes the beggars into a fraternal organization so they will not become a burden on the state and through this organization is enabled to recoup his losses and regain his steel mill. Lionel Atwill has the leading role. Betty Furness also is in the cast.

A novelty, "Strange As It Seems," and a travelogue, "Samoan Dreams," are included on the program.

-- News Behind The News --

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon

SPARTAN

Walker has been President Roosevelt's inside trouble-shooter. Whenever there was a particularly ticklish job of rein pulling, coordinating or pacifying to be done, the President has called on his good friend.

The latest job assigned to Walker was coordinator of about 115 new federal agencies, organization of a general bureau of New Deal information and getting the new home financing campaign started.

Walker's friends say he will have that job in shape in about ten weeks and then will go back to his private business.

REASON
Walker came here originally for six weeks. Those six weeks have stretched out into a year. The only way he has been able to handle his business affairs lately is to commute to New York over week ends.

FRIENDSHIP
Walker has been one of the main manipulators of the New Deal, although always in the background. He is the kind of man every successful president needs at his side, a good friend who stays out of the limelight and is ready to sacrifice himself for the boss.

He was the center of a censorship uproar when he set up the central statistical agency. The uproar died because the board appears to have been fair in its decisions. More lately, some of the political critics have taken a few wild shots at him for failure to harmonize the varying new federal agencies. Those shots apparently were aimed over Walker's shoulder at the fact that anyone who can get harmony out of that 115-piece band is not a bandmaster, but a Houdini.

His standing is shown by the general circulation given untruthful stories that he might take Louis Howe's place inside the White House. There is nothing in it of course, except a rather embarrassing tribute to Walker.

PANTS
Howe is active around the White House and wants to be more so, in disrespect of his health. His doctors have found a way of keeping him down. They refuse to give him his trousers every day until after lunch. They were forced to that extreme when he promised to remain at the office only three hours on several occasions and then remained six.

He is a good bit of a philosopher and a humorist, and he has fooled the doctors again by transacting half of his day's work from his bedroom in a lounging robe. Said he to a recent caller:

"I consider it an outrage for doctors to make such a handsome man as I receive visitors before I get my makeup on."

HEALTH
Miss Perkins has managed to keep it more or less a secret that she has been working for several weeks on a survey of the possibilities of general federal price fixing.

She is the most active member of an inner cabinet committee appointed to recommend a policy on that issue.

She is justified in proceeding under cover, not only because it is a touchy subject, but because nothing probably will ever come of it. The difficulties of federal price fixing are amply illustrated by what has happened in milk during the past six months.

The differences in production methods, costs and capitalization in every section, and in every firm, make the task so tremendous as to be impossible.

BOOSTING
Something will come, however, from another secret survey being conducted by the administration into obsolescence in the capital goods markets.

Who is making the investigation is not definitely known, but it may be Walker's outfit.

The idea is to learn all possible replacements which could be made for capital goods and then to have the government do something about stimulating replacements by encouraging easy financing of them.

It is the thing most needed now. The capital goods market is lagging while consumers' goods have been recovering.

NOTES
Weighty brookings institute researchers are responsible for this ditty on the A. A. A.: "Six million pigs went to market; thirty million pigs stayed home; one million pigs made relief meat; five million pigs made foam."

Treasury Secretary Morgenthau took to heart the talk that he might some day leave the Treasury to be ambassador to France. Privately and ardently, he informed friends that nothing like that was in the wind now. Some of Morgenthau's associates went so far as to suggest the talk was started by inflationists who wanted to get him out, although that is not correct.

Best newshound in the Senate is Senator J. Ham Lewis, who not only knows everything going on in the Senate, but everything going on back home in Illinois.

NEW YORK
By James McMullen

BREAKUP
The once powerful New York Clearing House association, which has been in existence so long it used privately to regard the New York Federal Reserve bank as a Newport dowerer regards a gate-crashing parvenu as closer to the rocks than its members like to admit.

The Harriman case is the threatening reef. The trial to determine whether the Clearing House had authority to commit its members is due for court presentation shortly. Eight of the Clearing House member banks have given up the struggle in advance and are willing to settle for their pro-rate share of the Harriman losses. Most of them had officers directly connected with the Clearing House decision and can't see any out for themselves. The other banks are still in a last-ditch mood—contending that they never accepted the Clearing House commitment.

The two groups are still trying to find common ground to avoid a breakup—but both sides are stubborn and the chances are slim. The vaunted solidarity of the New York organization has vanished. If some banks pay and others fight it's curtains for the Clearing House. Most bankers agree this would probably foreshadow a sharp decline in the prestige and influence of its individual members.

ACCEPTANCES
Unusual undercover hostilities have developed between the New York banks and dealers in bankers' acceptances. In normal times the banks usually turn over their own acceptances to the dealers to be marketed. But lately—what with the pressure of excess reserves and the dearth of what the banks call desirable investments—they have been hanging on to the paper they have endorsed for their own investment accounts. Naturally this has dried up the acceptance market and the dealers are sore.

Recently the dealers have quit quoting interest rates for bankers' bills. The few that do find their way into dealers' hands carry very low interest. But there has been as much as 100 per cent difference in the rates for the acceptance of two large banks on the same day.

Insiders say this doesn't reflect as wide a variance as you might suppose in the credit rating of the two banks. Rather it mirrors the much greater annoyance of the dealers with one bank than with the other.

It's just one more bit of evidence to show that Wall Street isn't one big happy family as the rest of the country is inclined to suspect.

METHODISTS
New York was deeply impressed by the attitude of the local Methodist conference which O. K'd the New Deal as far as it has gone but declared that it ought to go much further. The narrow defeat of a Socialistic resolution urging redistribution of wealth and public ownership of industry and finance caused more than a few shivers in local spines.

There was an attempt in some quarters to belittle the Methodist viewpoint as "ignorant fanaticism" but the best informed conservatives agree that the Methodists pretty accurately mirror middle class sentiment, and that even Dr. Wirt couldn't call them Communist by inclination.

GERMANY
Local bankers regard Dr. Hjalmar Schacht's latest threat to limit payments on Germany's foreign obligations as a bluff but they aren't at all sure they can successfully call it. They comfort themselves with the reminder that Germany has yet to commit an outright default on its commercial obligations. Also that Schacht invariably starts negotiations by claiming that Germany can't pay a nickel and then begins to compromise.

But this time there's a whistling-in-the-dark background to these reflections. Informed sources agree that the Germans have deliberately rigged conditions to make a good case for non-payment and it's going to be a hard one to refute. You hear caustic criticism of Germany's ethics—especially of her strategy in smacking down her own bond prices in order to buy them in cheap. Many authorities agree she is solvent—but what can the creditors do?

One leading New York banker comments: "If Germany only had half of England's pride we wouldn't have to worry. As it is, it looks like another case of write-off cramp."

PLANES
Germany's credit griefs aren't preventing her from making a lively interest in American planes, motors and accessories. Several fair-sized orders have come through recently. The Germans are especially keen about Boeing and Douglas transport planes—which can easily be converted into bombers.

Ernst Udet—crack German flier made many useful contacts with American aviation firms when he was over here for the air races last summer. Also the Adler Motor Works has had engineers here for several months to buy—and likewise to report in detail on their technical progress.

CONTRACT FOR ROAD GRAVEL RULED VALID

The contract under which Orange county purchases its road gravel for construction jobs exclusively from L. B. Reynolds, of Orange, was upheld as valid by Superior Judge L. N. Turrentine, of San Diego, who late yesterday denied an injunction petition filed by Graham Brothers, Long Beach Reynolds firm, who sought to void the Reynolds contract.

A previous ruling in another department of the court that the Reynolds contract was invalid, which ruling was cited by Graham Brothers in their suit, was held by Judge Turrentine to have been rendered without jurisdiction. It had been made in a suit between Reynolds and the county, the other court having sustained the county's demurrer to Reynolds' suit to enforce the contract, without leave to amend. This action, it was held yesterday by Judge Turrentine, ended the other court's jurisdiction over the case, and the ruling made afterward that the Reynolds contract was invalid, had no force.

Judge Turrentine himself held that the Reynolds contract was valid and binding upon the county. After the former decision, the county had started to make gravel purchases elsewhere, until Reynolds filed a $10,000 damage suit for breach of contract. Deputy District Attorney W. F. Menton at that time advised the superior court that he doubted the force of the court ruling that the contract was void. Accordingly the county compromised with Reynolds, agreeing to resume exclusive purchasing from him, at which he dismissed his damage suit.

The Graham Brothers injunction suit followed.

REAL ESTATE MEN NOW UNDER WORKING CODE

Santa Ana real estate brokers today were operating under a national code after the code for the real estate brokerage industry has been approved and made effective, it was announced today by Earl B. Hawks, secretary of the Santa Ana Realty Board, who termed the adoption of the code one of the most forward steps ever taken in the real estate business.

Stanley E. Goode, president of the board, will act as code committee within a week, it was announced, which will endeavor to answer any inquiries concerning compliance with the code.

The new code will affect every person in the real estate brokerage business, making no distinction between non-realtor brokers, salesmen and employees. All of them now are under the regulations of the code. Registration under the code is mandatory and not optional, Secretary Hawks said, and the code authority will consist of national, state and local control boards.

"Every person who continues in the business," he said, "will pay a fee or charge for the administration of the code, and when proper forms are available all must comply on their own initiative. The fact that they hold a state license will be evidence of non-conformity unless they surrender their state authority to act."

"The new code intends to do away with sharp practices and unethical dealing on the part of those who have just kept within the law but violated every principle of fair dealing, thus bringing a cloud upon the profession generally."

"It will require every broker to bear his fair share of organized supervision. An honest broker will no longer have to meet and be ashamed by dishonest competitors. It will make complete registration necessary and the fly-by-night operator cannot escape his misdeeds. Most important, it will increase public confidence in the profession because the ethical members can enforce ethical and honest trade practices."

Church Men Will Meet Again May 3

Next meeting of the Orange County United Church Brotherhood will be held in the First Congregational church Thursday, May 3, at 7:30 p. m., it was announced today.

Church men throughout the county were requested to take notice of the fact that the date of the meeting has been changed. Organization will be completed and an interesting program is being arranged.

Reorganizers, teachers and for the customs service.

This became so noticeable that the German ministry officially protested such job-giving as an "unfriendly act." To which the Chinese replied with Oriental courtesy that (1) They were sorry but they couldn't cancel the contract and (2) T. V. Soong had been so favorably impressed by German methods on his visit there that it had seemed wise to employ German intelligence to rehabilitate China. Such a soft answer left no further grounds for official wrath.

JERRY VOORHIS SIXTY REPORT IS SPEAKER AT FOOTBALL SINGLARS MEET PRACTICE HERE

ANAHEIM, April 21.—Declaring that the hand of God is pushing humanity forward into a new age and new conditions of living and that the Epic plan to end poverty in California was the ordered, controlled and democratic method to accomplish that result in California and aid President Roosevelt in his struggle to help America, Jerry Voorhis, head of the San Dimas school for Boys, made a powerful speech last night at the Upton Sinclair for Governor club in Anaheim.

He said that the Epic movement in California was similar to the popular movement in Minneapolis under Governor Olson which is now being carried into a production program in co-operation with President Roosevelt, and with the progressive movement in Wisconsin which has stepped out of the old party lines.

He described how humanity has developed through slavery and feudalism and capitalism. "The purpose of capitalism was the production of plenty for the use of man. We have reached that stage where plenty is possible and is now at hand. We have come to the logical end of an era when we must make use of that power to produce which we have created."

"The tools of livelihood have been removed from man's grasp, he can no longer make a living or buy the complicated tools necessary to allow him to compete. A new principle must be asserted. When people of a state can no longer make a living it becomes the duty of that state to supply such tools and lands and methods which will enable them to make that living," the speaker said.

Voorhis paid high compliment to President Roosevelt and analyzed his actions as a clever understanding of the American psychology. "I imagine President Roosevelt has an idea something like this. The American people are extremely dumb. I must demonstrate to them that all these things that have been suggested as the way out will not work, I must clear the decks from these absurd ideas, so that the more important things may be done in the future."

"Shall we just be for the President and do nothing to help him or shall we get in a movement which will break down the resistance to the things he is trying to do and make a success of the only kind of solution which is possible to the unemployment problem and thus establish a precedent for the carrying out of the plans which are obviously in his mind."

"We have three ways to go, the dose system of England, and I don't think the American people will stand for that; the subsidy system, which has little to recommend it, and the plan to put the unemployed to work to support themselves. This plan is economically sound, it is California's contribution to save America, and it is the only decent thing to do."

"If we sit still and do nothing, groups of hard pressed people—non-Communists or Reds—will cause outbreaks and possibly bloodshed. These will be easily suppressed, but will give the Los Angeles Times and like minded groups and organizations an opportunity to build a fascist dictatorship, in one or two generations. This will mean plenty of trouble, for Americans will not stand for that sort of control effectively."

S. Gervart, executive secretary of the Sinclair organization in the 14th assembly district, spoke briefly. P. A. Rogers, secretary of the local chapter of the League of Women Voters, furnished a musical program.

OFFICIALS DENY COUNTY PART IN CONTROL WORK

Neither the county government, nor the Orange County Water district, has any connection with reported activities near Fullerton in connection with flood control surveys along Brea creek, it was stated today by officials in Santa Ana.

Reports published in other newspapers yesterday, to the effect that County Highway Superintendent Nat Neff was engaged with City Engineer Herman Hiltcher in making surveys in connection with the proposed purchase of Bastanchury ranch acreage for a dam and reservoir site, were denied by Neff today. He said he knew nothing of any such matter. Supervisor John Mitchell stated that the county board likewise knows nothing of the matter. C. A. Palmer, secretary of the water district, said that his district had no connection with or knowledge of the activities reported.

M. N. Thompson, county flood control engineer, said he understood that the city of Fullerton had instructed Hiltcher to make channel surveys on Brea creek, and that his department might assist in that work in an advisory capacity later, but that, so far as he knew, the work had no connection with the Bastanchury project.

ANNUAL DINNER MEETING HELD BY METHODISTS

FULLERTON, April 21.—The church should not be a field to cultivate, but a force to fight for righteousness, and when the members realize that, they will become a mighty moving force for God, the Rev. E. E. Helms said last night at the fifth annual meeting of the Fullerton Methodist church.

He was principal speaker at the dinner meeting that marked the anniversary of breaking of ground for the church building, and chose as his theme for the evening, "Loyalty."

According to the speaker, the Christian is a job hunter, and if he desires his life to fit to that of his Master, will not seek a throne but a job. He advised five principles of service to be adopted by the Christian, loyal service, loving service, living service, little service, designating that as being willing to serve in small things, and lasting service.

In conclusion, he said, "A quitter never wins and a winner never quits, and a divine necessity is a human possibility, for God does not ask man to do what man cannot do." He urged the church people to quit being "fields for the minister to cultivate, but become living and active workers for God, making every new a pulpit, and every action and service for the sake of humanity."

Guests of honor, including the Rev. D. Dudley Snudden, former pastor, and Mrs. Snudden, of Riverside; the Rev. and Mrs. Francis Hawes and the Rev. and Mrs. George P. Tinsley of the Baptist and Christian churches; the Rev. and Mrs. Dominguez, Mexican Mission church; the Rev. Elmer Helms, former pastor of the First church, Los Angeles, and Mrs. Helms; Bert Merrill, chairman of the finance committee, and new president of the Orange County union of Methodists, and the Rev. and Mrs. E. Dow Hoffman, pastor of the Methodist church, were seated on a raised platform at a special table. Mrs. J. H. Daniel, general president, and members of the circles of the Women's aids, served dinner.

The Rev. Mr. Hoffman, chairman of the evening, introduced several other guests that were seated in the audience. He announced that the anniversary meeting will be continued Sunday when John Brown, evangelist from Arkansas, will speak at 11 a. m.

Prior to the talk by Dr. Helms, Merrill told of the plan for continuing the payment on the church debt and called attention to the fact that in spite of depression, the debt against the building has been met by half during the past five years.

H. H. Schwoob, a member of the finance committee, outlined the mechanics by which it is planned to make regular payments on the debt. The whole church is to be organized in military fashion, that all may be contacted and given a chance to assist.

CHAMP OF CHAMPS

Jack Dempsey was some shakes as a ring champion and Babe Ruth was king of the circuit clouters for years. But such champions as those two sents were, they take a back seat when Frank Ward's name is mentioned.

If you don't go in for the great old squash tennis sport, you probably don't know Frank. But this big, black haired Irishman has been squashing king for nine years in a row. That, brothers, is holding one's seat!

Now hearing 30, the king of squash tennis grew up near Cedarhurst, L. I. In his early youth he gave up baseball, marbles, fishing and hunting as soon as he caught hold of a squash racket—and that explains why he is the sultan of the squash.

TAUGHT BY THE KING
Ward owes all he knows about the game that came over from England to Walter Kinsella. The former world open squash tennis champion played an exhibition till one day at a club where Ward was serving as professional. In the exhibition, Ward was an opponent. Kinsella recognized in the tall youngster a coming champion.

When Kinsella retired as undefeated champion in 1925, Ward, then with the New York City Athletic club, stepped into his shoes as king, winning the open crown. No one has been able to knock him off the throne since.

There has been a remarkable increase in the popularity of this game in the last few years. It has mushroomed up something on the order of table tennis. There are two varieties. One is squash racquet, of English origin, and the other is squash tennis, developed in Philadelphia in the latter part of the 19th century.

COURTS AND BALLS VARY
There is little difference in the game. Sizes of the courts differ a bit, and the balls used in the two games vary. In squash tennis the ball is inflated like an outdoor tennis ball, somewhat smaller, and very lively. In squash racquet the ball is still smaller, of black rubber, and is much less lively than the squash tennis sphere.

The game has caught on to such degree in the United States that every athletic club and major university has several courts.

The game is an excellent conditioner and is nearly as strenuous as tennis. It is played by serving the ball to a wall and then trying to place shots so that the opposing player cannot reach them on the rebound.

"FUNNY HOW THINGS GO!"
"Now you take when I was at Washington," said Walter Johnson, manager of the Cleveland Indians, "we had a pitching problem. Funny how those things go. All we needed to win a pennant was for one of our fellows to come through for us with about 20 games."

"Cleveland has had an infield problem for years. One season it would look like it was solved. Then, just when they were counting on the player to repeat his good year, he would fold up."

ONE GOOD YEAR
"Take second base, for example. Sack in 1925 when Wamby (Wambagans) quit they found Freddie Spurgeon. He looked awful good. All through '26 he played a fine game. They were counting on him in '27, but he flopped. So the club had to shop around again."

"They found Carl Lind. During his first season, '28, Lind was another Johnny Evers. Handled a ball perfectly and hit hard. Drove in a lot of runs. The team was envied around the league because Lind looked like the goods."

"But in '29 Lind looked just as bad as he had been good the year before. He booted easy chances. At the plate he was a liability rather than an asset. So the club had to shop around again."

REMEMBER HODAPP?
"In 1930 Hodapp was put on second. Johnny never had been a great fielder but he could hit. Just as soon as he was placed at second he started to field like a star. Kept hitting, too, all year. So Peck wasn't worried about second base for the following year."

"But in 1931 Hodapp went just like Spurgeon and Lind in their second years. Kicked the ball and his hitting fell off. It looked like second base was jinxed. Funny how those things go, kind of in streaks."

CISSELL FOLLOWS SUIT
"In '32 they got Cissell in a trade. He had a wonderful year. Hit over .300, the best hitting year he ever had since he came from Portland. When the Indians went into spring training last year, Cissell was figured sure for second."

"But he went just like the others. Batted fell off to .230. He was so erratic in the field he had to be taken out. During the winter he was traded to Boston."

"Now this year is another even year, and that's the year when the Indians have a good second baseman. Maybe it will be Hale or Burnett. For a while I thought this new man from New Orleans, Louie Berger, might make it. Can't tell, though. It is funny how those things go."

MAC'S ATHLETICS CALIFORNIA FROSH EXPRESS BALL FANS BURY INDIAN BABES

NEW YORK, April 21.—(UP)—Rising out of its own ashes like the ancient Phoenix, Connie Mack's Philadelphia club is making an excellent showing against high-powered American league opposition.

The Athletics, supposedly wrecked by sale of key players during the off-season, showed no signs of folding up in four games with the Yankees and Senators. Instead, they broke even.

In their three-game series with the Yanks, the A's won the first encounter, and yesterday they downed the Senators, American circuit champions, 3 to 6. It was Washington's third straight defeat.

CUNNINGHAM AGAIN THREATENS RECORDS
George Anderson, sprinter from Pasadena, Charley Paddock's home town, ran the 100-yard dash in 9.7 seconds and the 220 in 21.2 seconds to lead the Bear freshmen to victory. His marks surpassed the 9.9 second record set by Bob Kiesel in 1931 and the 22-second mark held by Sudden, Stanford, since 1921.

Randell, California weight man, tossed the discus 146 feet, 7 3/4 inches, surpassing the mark of 143.8 made by the late Eric Krenz of Stanford in 1927. Reynolds, Stanford shot putter, established a new mark of 48 feet, 2 1/2 inches in his event, surpassing Johnny Lyman's record by one-half an inch.

George Waddell, California, tied the low hurdles mark of 24.5 made by Klopstock, Stanford, last year.

PARSONS RUNS WITH LUVALLE, MCCARTHY
Lawrence, Kan., April 21.—(UP)—Five determined and capable runners were ready for an effort to establish a new world record in the mile as the feature race of the Kansas Relays here.

The special invitation mile event is viewed largely as a race between Glenn Cunningham, Kansas university, and Gene Venzke, Pennsylvania star.

Glenn Dawson, Tulsa Athletic club; Ray Sears, Butler's two-mile specialist; and Harold Manj—Wichita, former National collegiate two-mile champion, are entered in the race, however, and threaten to give the Kansas and Pennsylvania men a first rate race.

Fair and warmer weather predictions forecast a fast track, and the present mile record of 4 minutes 7.6 seconds, held by Jack Lovelock, New Zealand, is regarded as in jeopardy.

N. Y. GREET OPEN BETTING
NEW YORK, April 21.—(UP)—A record crowd of more than 15,000 welcomed open betting in New York today, after a lapse of 26 years, at the inaugural program at Jamaica track.

RACE WITH THE LEGION
The third weekly short track event sees added match races, a new favorite and handicap rules that bring new thrills. Student body high school tickets and a dime at Gate No. 3 for the young folks. Also an official broadcast with genuine humor.

SEARS SHUTS COLTON: SEARS HITS 2 HOMERS

They turned the pages of time back a couple of years at the Municipal Bowl last night. A sleek looking Santa Ana ball team, bearing some resemblance to the Stars of the old lush days, cracked down on Colton for an easy 6-0 victory.

With its lineup virtually intact for the first time this spring, Santa Ana gave a glowing exhibition of pitching, fielding and hitting—three home runs figuring in the rout of one of the American division's better teams.

Ira DeBusk and Wilbur Stinchfield stopped the inlanders with five hits scattered over as many innings. After the third, no Colton runner got further than first base. Four of the Reds' bingles were bunts, the other a scratchy infield affair.

On the other hand, the Stars connected lustily. Ed Daley, who got three blows, and "Chub" Sears, young outfielder, hit successive home runs in the fourth, and Sears blasted another in the sixth with Daley aboard. Sears' second shot was a terrific drive into the top section of the left field bleachers. These homers contributed four of Santa Ana's six runs. One of the others came in the third on DeBusk's single. Denney's single and Preble's double to right; the other was produced in the sixth immediately after the Ruthian pokes by Daley and Sears. Stinchfield singled to center, moved up on a passed ball, and scored on infield tape by Denney and Hill.

Les Haseer, former Anaheim shortstop, played his first game for the Santa Ana club, breaking in with a blazing double off Third Baseman Ray Shaddox's glove. Haseer has not been signed as yet, but probably will be added to the roster Tuesday when the club makes its next start.

The Stars, against the Green Cats. Jim McNabb, Anaheim's great second baseman, also a free agent, conferred with Santa Ana officials after the game. He is anxious to catch on here, the National league having refused to waive his transfer to the rival American division, where he was scheduled to join Riverside. McNabb hit .377 at Anaheim last season and .357 the year before that. Haseer's average was .331. The box score:

HOMERS FEATURE AS TUSTIN PREPS WIN
Tustin Hi's baseball team knocked out a 7-4 victory over Frank Kellogg's Anaheim Colonials, defending champions, in an Orange league opener at Tustin yesterday.

The Farmers took a three-run lead in the first inning when, with two away, Wilson Seacord, Tustin hurler, hit a home run into left field with Bronner, first baseman, and Francie third-sackman, on base.

The Colonials failed to score until the fourth, when Bronner, sending Fee, left fielder, home ahead of him. Francis and "Chuck" Forbes brought in runs in the fifth and sixth innings, respectively, while a three-bagger by Bronner in the seventh, tallied Bob Forbes and Francis. Bronner got four hits in four times to bat. Fee scored again for the Colonials in the sixth and Comstock lifted a long fly over right field for a home run in the seventh.

Hawkins, Stranske Set Marks As Saints Lose

Although Santa Ana high school closed its 1934 dual meet track schedule in defeat, the Saints today had the satisfaction of adding two new records to their all-time list.

Long Beach more than doubled Santa Ana's scoring power at Long Beach yesterday, 76-37, but it took two Saint athletes to contribute the day's outstanding performances.

Bill Hawkins, 16-year-old junior, ran the 120-yard high hurdles in 15.1 seconds, clipping a tenth of a second from the old school mark made by Al Reborn in 1929.

Art Stranske, husky captain of the Santa Ana forces, shouldered the 12-pound shot to a distance of 50 feet 10 1/2 inches, adding an inch and a half to his own record, established two weeks ago.

It was the fourth time this season that Stranske has smashed the old standard. Art also won the discus with a toss of 119 feet. Hawkins ran two thrilling relay races with Fred Elsmann of Long Beach, who until yesterday was considered the finest hurdler in the Coast Preparatory league.

The tall Saint runner nosed out Elsmann in the highs by a foot, and lost only by inches the decision in the lows, Elsmann's winning time being 25.6 seconds.

Captain Stranske and Hawkins made 19 of Santa Ana's 37 points.

"Curly" Mills, former Southern California dirt track champion, will be at the wheel of No. 36, new sensation of the midwest auto racing game, in the "Race With the Legion" program at the Santa Ana Municipal Bowl tonight.

R. V. Collins, owner and builder of No. 36, has selected the veteran to succeed "Mutt" D'Amore as his pilot in the "Bromo" short-track honors.

A former American motorboat speed champion, is highly interested in his experimentation with outboard motors for race cars.

Santa Anita Set For Invasion Of Colored Giants
Encouraged by its 13-9 victory over the City Market of Los Angeles, the Santa Anita nine tangles with the Moor Colored Giants of Los Angeles on the West First street diamond at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow.

Cliff Miller, hero of the first game, will divide pitching duties with Shepherd in the second Triple A tilt, and "Bromo" Koral will be behind the platter. Happy, first; Farley, second; Munoz, third; J. Koral, ss; and Maldonado, Villa and Bell in the outfield are due to start, with Casas, Smith, Salcido and Fredrick in reserve.

FULLERTON C INCHES J. C. CHAMPIONSHIP
FULLERTON, April 21.—Winning from Chaffey Junior college here yesterday, Fullerton's Yellow Jackets clinched the dual meet championship of the conference. Undeatable throughout the season, Coach Harold Lang's team won from Chaffey by a score of 94-1-2 to 35-1-2.

Next Saturday all the junior colleges in the conference are to meet at Chaffey.

Wheat of Fullerton ran the high hurdles in 15.1 seconds. Green ran the 880 in 2:01.2, and Sutherland heaved the discus 131 feet after putting the 16-pound shot 40 feet, 3 inches.

SAINTS POUND BALL SAAGELY. ROUT PASADENA

Santa Ana's Saints today pointed to a 12-3 triumph over Pasadena to prove they have a capable baseball club in the Coast Preparatory league this season, and by collecting 13 hits off the Bulldogs at Poly field yesterday.

Clyde Cook's varsity maintained its reputation of being one of the best offensive teams in the prep circuit.

Glendale and Alhambra were troubled by Santa Ana's effective hitting, too, but an erring defense of the Saints aided their opponents in winning 9-8 and 9-6 decisions. Fielding mistakes were kept at a minimum against Pasadena, Santa Ana made but two errors, and both came in the sixth when no damage was done.

Able pitching by Willie "Emperor" Jones, who fanned 13 opponents and allowed only seven scattered blows, was another major factor in the Saint victory. Jones struck out the side in the ninth, and blanked the visitors in every inning but the first and third.

Pasadena got off to a flying start with three hits and two runs in the first, but Santa Ana brought in three runs on two hits in its half of the inning. The Bulldogs scored once in the third to knot the count, and from there on out, it was all Santa Ana, with two Saint runs in the third, six in the sixth, and one in the seventh.

Paul Bingle, Saint outfielder, clouted a home run in the sixth. He was the first man up, and the last man out, for the Cookmen battered completely around on six hits and a walk.

Jesse Ojeda, first sacker, maintained his lead in the batting averages with two hits in four attempts to increase his seasonal percentage to .354. Al Halderman also hit two for four to remain a close second with .350.

The Saints travel to San Diego next week.

DEFEATED DONS OUT OF BASEBALL CHASE
Baseball honors in the Eastern jaycee conference this year will be awarded one of four teams—Fullerton, Citrus, Pomona or San Bernardino—with only Santa Ana, Riverside and Chaffey considered definitely out of the titular race.

By virtue of an sensational scoring spree in the first inning that produced seven runs, Coach Al Claves and his Citrus Owls coasted to an easy 13-6 victory over Santa Ana here yesterday. It was the second straight defeat for the Dons.

The under-rated Citrus club chased Pitcher Leo Morse from the mound in the first after gathering more than enough runs to win the game, but the Owls failed to make much headway against the relief pitching of Shortstop Reg Lake, who held them to five scattered hits.

Spectacular fielding by Art Wilde, Santa Ana's steady third baseman, was the highlight of the afternoon. Wilde handled perfectly five difficult chances that ordinarily would have gone for hits.

Santa Ana plays at Riverside next Friday.

CHICAGO, April 21.—(UP)—Jack Dempsey today started talking about plans for Max Baer's appearance in a heavyweight title bout in Chicago in September.

Dempsey is said to have made a tentative partnership with Charles W. Bidwell, president of the Chicago Stadium Operating company, to promote a big bout here in September, contingent on Baer winning the title from Carnera in June.

Dempsey has several dates to appear as referee in Michigan the rest of April and a few dates in the south in May, after which he will go back to New York to aid in the promotion of the Baer-Carnera bout.

Promoter Jack Fredericks announced today that the handicaps of all riders will be re-arranged for the Santa Ana Motorcycle club's fourth racing show on the Newport boulevard oval at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow.

With a new and faster machine, Husky Bob Holder of Los Angeles will attempt to break the one-lap track record of 19 seconds flat established by W. L. "Wild Bill" Miner of Long Beach last week.

Miner shattered the mark of 19.4 set the preceding Sunday by Jack Beckford, who will not ride again for several weeks on account of a fractured leg sustained in a traffic accident.

STUDENTS JUDGE CATTLE

GARDEN GROVE, April 21.—"The Future Farmers' judging team of the high school is at Davis Agricultural college to judge poultry and dairy cattle. Those making the trip were Sam Bragg, Gordon Miller, Roy Kobaski, John Fritcher, Nick Vuilech, Thabie Niro, Tusuma Lanaka, Allen Anderson, Albert Kumbaugh, Clyde Estep, Lawrence Craig and Mr. Jordan, their instructor.

Mr. Noyes' confession, delivered between deep gasps, was complete. Perhaps it was a relief at last to speak. Beyond doing justice to her husband and delivering the money to him that was his—if he could be found—the confession made little difference. The son whose rearing had been left to his mother was one of those reported "missing" in France. Perhaps the boy had been urged to a too-gallant duty by thoughts of a father who had killed a woman and run away.

Thus are the patterns of life woven.

At the same time there was also much space in the newspapers devoted to accounts of Jim Field's spectacular financial crash. There had been a drop in the market that took him under, leaving him completely at the mercy of men whom he had betrayed. These men—settling on the little that was left—bent their red, rough necks to pick the bones, as their feathers grew sleek and shiny.

Before leaving for Havana Estelle had learned of the crash. She had received a letter from Alec Davids the morning of their departure. Alec wrote, as cruelly as possible, that their engagement must be at an end. He said that he knew she had never cared for him. He had not cared for her either until he had determined to show her who was master. Then somehow he had learned a blend of love and hate—a wish to love her as he dreamed of loving her and a wish to hurt her as men rarely dream of hurting women.

"Of course," his mother had said, "water him with the note." It is quite impossible now. And after all, dear— "The words ended with a raise of pudgy shoulders.

"Oh, surely!" she agreed languidly.

It was like Estelle to pull him into a mess like this, she thought. To make him love her and hate her and then leave him unable to fulfill the least of his morbid and cruel fancies. Yes, it was like her. He hoped she would suffer as she never had—as few women had.

Mrs. Noyes had had one letter from her husband after that. He wrote her that he had never been faithful to her physically. His interest in Miss Martell had been more than a friendly based on mutual interests. Nevertheless he was guilty, Noyes said, because he had led his wife into loving him and later ceased to care for her. He also wrote that she was not coming back, that she must rear their son as best she could and with the realization that the crime was his, not hers. Between them they had killed one of the best women who ever lived.

Mrs. Noyes had been jealous, she confessed. Her jealousy had grown until it completely overpowered her; she knew no other emotion. She had followed her husband one night to Josie Martell's home which was well up town. A maid had admitted her and she saw the maid disappear into the rear of the house. Then from the hall she listened to voices in the next room—Josie Martell's voice and Noyes'. They were talking of pictures and of artists and they said nothing that could possibly offend Mrs. Noyes. She went into the room then and Josie Martell arose to make her welcome. But Mrs. Noyes did not sit down. She stood in the doorway, smiling. Then she raised one hand, holding the small Spanish revolver that she always kept in her dressing table drawer. She fired.

When she next knew anything beyond her husband's swift, urgent voice, "Go!" she was on her way home. She let herself in with her key. The testimony of Josie Martell's maid that a woman had called that night to see her mistress was dismissed as unimportant after Noyes' disappearance had been interpreted as a confession.

The Noyes case filled long columns in the newspapers. There were many stories about Josie Martell who had danced and acted with so much charm and grace. "Another Maude Adams" she had been called.

Staid middle-aged men smiled, reading this column, and then sighed a little sadly. A look over the shoulder is likely to cause a sag, while a look ahead makes the

The fruit patrol of five men is now appointed by the supervisors, he said, on recommendation of the sheriff, and five men are continuously in touch with the radio police broadcast in that department.

Zaiser, in celebration of her birthday anniversary. During Mrs. Zaiser's absence yesterday afternoon from her home on the Orange County hospital grounds, preparations for the dinner were completed, so her return in the late afternoon was to a complete surprise, even to the candle-light birthday cake baked by friends on the staff of the hospital where Dr. Zaiser is superintendent.

Moomaw, 1901 South Van Ness avenue, will take an important part in the presentation of "Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight," one of the program features. Mrs. Moomaw is especially interested in the Child Study group of Junior Ebell, because of her own bonny lads, Richard, 5 years old, and his brother Donn, just half as old. Mr. Moomaw is a member of the faculty at Julia Lathrop Junior high school and both he and his wife graduated from Oregon State college. They plan to leave as soon as school is out for their summer cabin at Hubbard, near Portland, Ore.

Junior Ebell Section Hears Comprehensive Book Review

It was at the ranch home of Mrs. Glenn Mathis in El Modena that Junior Ebell Book Review section was again afforded pleasure of having an interesting and brilliant review of recent books, presented this week by Mrs. Newell Moore.

This was Mrs. Moore's second appearance before the group. Last year she discussed biographies of Edgar Allen Poe and other famous men of that period. This time she had selected biographies written within the year, giving special emphasis to the difference in treatment and pointing out that psycho-analysis in recent historical and scientific biographies, is given more emphasis than in those of an earlier day.

"Now one can read biographies with even more enjoyment and interest than is given to the reading of a novel," the speaker declared. "For their characters really have lived and the records of their lives are written truly in story and psychoanalytical form."

Some of the famous characters with which Mrs. Moore held the fascinated attention of the group, were developed from the biographies, "Josephine, Wife of Napoleon," by Reinhardt, who brings out Josephine's capacity for getting the maximum of joy from life; "Nijinsky," that brilliant but tragic figure in the Russian Ballet, written by his wife, Romola Nijinsky; "Queen Elizabeth," by Neale; "Cleopatra," by Delaney, and "Keats," by Weller.

During the business interval of the conference, which is open to the public, will be in session from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m., with a covered-dish luncheon at noon.

Round table discussions on alcoholic education will be led by Mrs. Pearl Kendall Hess, national director of medical temperance, and on citizenship by Mrs. C. E. Utt. Other topics for round table discussion will be "Anti-Alcohol Teaching in Sunday School," "The Church in Action Against Alcohol," "Alcohol Revenue," "Severing Local Option."

Unions taking part in the conference include Santa Ana, Orange, El Modena, Tustin, Costa Mesa, Newport Beach, Huntington Beach and Garden Grove. Unions in the northern part of the county will have a conference Tuesday, April 24, in Fullerton.

Popular Entertainment Of Long Ago Revived For Ebell Program

Turning back the pages in the annals of entertainment, Junior Ebell Music, Art and Drama section will present the program Monday afternoon for General Ebell society, and direct attention of clubwomen to the quaint loveliness of an earlier day.

Miss Mary Bowyer, section leader, and her co-workers have had a world of pleasure in delving into the past and reviving the outstanding successes of yesterday as a means of offering entertainment to enterprising and progressive clubwomen of today. They are not burlesquing the hoary favorites of an earlier day, except in one or two cases where the burlesque is irresistible.

One of these will be that famous classic, "The Face on the Bar Room Floor," and anyone that chanced to see the delightful presentation of "The Girl of the Golden Gulch," by the Junior College music department, a few weeks ago, will recall the manner in which this was presented by Arthur Casey. The Junior collegian has promised to aid the hostess section by repeating this and also be taking part in the scenes from Richard Brinsley Sherman's famous plays, "School for Scandal" and "The Rivals."

Miss Florence Brownridge will give a short resume of each play in advance of the scenes to be presented by Mrs. Charles McDaniell Jr., Miss June Arnold, Miss Brownridge and Mrs. John Bradley under direction of Miss June Arnold.

Every member of an older generation will recall the time when no program was complete without the rendition of "Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight," Mrs. Harold Moomaw is to instruct her class in "eloquence and diction" in the correct manner in which to portray this moving tale of Cromwellian days in England. In her "class" will be Mrs. John Bradley, Mrs. Frank Andrews Jr., Mrs. George Bradley and Miss Isabelle Bondley. Miss Arnold also will direct this number.

Musical features will include a revival of the Floradora Sextet under direction of Miss Betty Bondley and with Mrs. Mervyn Brythe as accompaniment and song director. Mrs. Frederick Elliott, Miss Isabelle Bondley, Mrs. Harold Dale, Mrs. Frank Andrews Jr., Mrs. Clifford Quisell and Miss Julia Thorndike will enact the group making musical comedy history.

Costumes for these varied program features will be an entertainment in themselves, and Mrs. Robert Hedner and Mrs. Lynn Crawford are bending every effort to have them authentic. They have received a splendid cooperation from owners of beautiful old gowns, who are lending them for use in the various features. Interested furniture dealers are cooperating also, and the stage setting will be in thorough accord with each individual number.

Ebell society will convene at 2 o'clock, and Mrs. C. V. Davis, president, will conclude the day's business features promptly in order to introduce the program given so generously by the Juniors.

Only members of the two families were assembled for the rites, which were followed by a wedding breakfast at which Mr. and Mrs. Willbrandt were hosts in their Lemon Heights home. Mrs. R. L. Spangh, scoring high in the game, received first prize with consolation gift awarded Mrs. Esther Rummels. ## LATVIAN GROUP TO SING HERE MONDAY NIGHT

Descendants of a group of Russian refugees, who formed the first famous musical organization known as the Latvian Singers, the present and equally renowned group, touring under that name, will make their second Santa Ana appearance Monday evening at the Educational building of the First Christian church, Sixth and Birch streets. The program is set for 7:30 p. m.

The present is the third "generation" of Latvian Singers. The first was formed at Hamburg, Germany, in 1907, by refugees of the Russian revolution of 1905. They toured various continents until 1909.

The second group was formed after the World war, and, while they came to the United States in 1922, gave very few concerts. The third and present group was formed two years ago, from among the original Latvian Singers and their descendants. During 1933 they gave 197 programs in Southern California, believed to be a record for any concert group.

The following program will be presented Monday evening: "Gospel of the Lord," ancient Russian prayer, the basic melody of which is known to have come from before the time of Constantine the Great, and according to tradition, originated with the Church of Corynth at the close of the First century; "My God and I," a Latvian spiritual; "Die Lorelei," a German air; "The Monastery," a Latvian spiritual; "Song of the Volga Boatman," and "Softly and Tenderly," an American hymn.

Our All For the Kingdom

Text: Matt., 19:1-30
The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for April 22.
BY WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of Advance

The story of the rich young man who came to Jesus seeking the way of eternal life has made a profound impression upon human interest, though it does not seem to have had an equal effect upon spiritual attitudes and decisions of the will.

Wealth, though it need not necessarily be a barrier between man and God, and though it may in fact be made a means of grace and blessing, still constitutes a barrier that keeps men from the Kingdom of Heaven and from appropriating the reality of eternal life.

It is as true today as it was in the days when Jesus was on earth that where man's treasure is, there will his heart be also. The Kingdom of Heaven must be the first and supreme thing in a man's life or it cannot be there at all, just as in a modern world a man cannot be a citizen of one country and at the same time give his chief allegiance to another country.

MISSIONARY FROM INDIA TO SPEAK SUNDAY

The story of ministry to both caste and outcast of India will be brought to the First Baptist church at 2 p. m. Sunday by Dr. Lena A. Benjamin, who is in charge of the Nellors hospital for women and children at Nellore, South India.

This hospital, through its great Christian service to the people in its section of India, is said to have a decided bearing upon the whole social fabric of Indian life.

Her engagement in Santa Ana will be the only address made in this section by Dr. Benjamin during her furlough. It will be accompanied by a rally service for all Baptists in this area, with the ladies of the Santa Ana church as hostesses at a tea and social hour at the close of the address. The public is invited.

Another guest speaker, Dr. M. E. Bratcher, of the Department of the Old Testament of the Berkeley Baptist Divinity school, will occupy the pulpit at the morning service. There will be no evening service.

Trinity Lutheran church (Missouri Synod), East Sixth and Lacy streets, William Schmoeck, pastor. Divine worship, 10:35 a. m.; sermon subject, "The Invitation of the Church to All Men to Worship the Lord with Her"; Sunday school, 9:30 a. m.; Bible class, 9:40 a. m.

First Presbyterian church, Sixth at Sycamore streets, O. Scott McFarland, minister. "Church school, 9:30 a. m.; morning worship, 11 o'clock; sermon, "Walled Up But Not Roofed In"; tenor solo, "Hear My Cry" (Milligan), Mr. Garro-way; Young People's meetings, 6:30 o'clock; evening service, 7:30 p. m., "The Gospel in Modern Poetry," "The Everlasting Mercy"; cello solo, "Romance" (wrenth), Edward Burns.

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Our All For the Kingdom

The failure to grasp this keeps men from entering the Kingdom, just as it kept this young man who came to Jesus.

One should not in any way misunderstand the dramatic aspects of the narrative. This young man was not a mean or selfish person. There is no indication that he was in any sense a money grubber or that he was unduly attached to his wealth.

He had great possessions, and he no doubt had grown up in the psychology that these great possessions indicated.

The probability is that he was unable to see quite clearly the issues involved. He turned away sorrowfully when Jesus invited him to find the Kingdom by leaving his great wealth, but the probability is that he was puzzled rather than confirmed in a wrong decision.

The power of his wealth and his environment had taken from him the capacity for clear thinking and clear seeing.

He was a moral young man. Jesus loved him because there was so much that was right and fine in his life.

We should, no doubt, today in our modern world set such a man as an ideal for youth. Yet here is the clear record that there was one thing lacking, the most essential thing of all, the thing that would have linked him to the Master and that would have given him his place in the Kingdom.

There is a tradition that the young man did ultimately come to Jesus or gave himself to the Kingdom, as he was not willing to do at this time. Tradition has associated this young man with Joseph of Arimathea, who asked for the body of Jesus, that he might bury it; but all this is tradition.

We do not know what was the young man's future, whether his rejection of Jesus and his departure in sorrow marked a final decision in his life, or whether he came later to some finer commitment.

One thing is certain, that if he went away sorrowful, there was thereafter no real peace in his life. He had missed that glorious satisfaction that again and again has come to men and women who have joyfully accepted Christ's invitation, though it has meant, apparently, the sacrifice of everything—even life itself.

They discover the truth of Jesus, that he that loathes his life shall find it. (Copyright, 1934, NEA Service, Inc.)

Come to Church

In the eyes of a child lies the vision of all Christ's teachings. For there shines the will to believe. The child is ever ready to believe what it is taught, and that will to believe is expressive of the child's pure faith in the honesty and love of the person in whom he puts his trust. That is the way Jesus wanted all mankind to be—faithful in his love and honesty, that we might believe for our own salvation, his divine teachings. Almost two thousand years have passed since he gave his word to the world, and though he was doubted then . . . even crucified for his own faith, yet the spirit of his inspiration has become immortal. Let us all, like the little children he loved, not only feel our own faith and will to believe, but let us teach it to those who come under our influence.

THE TINYMIES

The wind man blew the Tinnies round, and Dotty said, "Where are we bound? I hope you do not blow us up so high that we'll get lost."

"We've had a lot of rides in air, but for this one we do not care. It really takes my breath away each time we're dipped and tossed."

"Oh, don't you worry," cried the man. "I'm like a big electric fan. When things appear in front of me, I blow them 'round and 'round."

"You are a funny sight to see. That's why this stunt appeals to me. When I get tired of blowing, you will float back to the ground."

"But how soon will you get tired out?" the wind man heard Duncy shout. "Oh, maybe in a week or so," he answered with a grin.

"Why, son, I haven't started yet, and when I do, a thrill you'll get. I'll have you traveling so fast, you won't know where you've been."

"Say, I don't like that plan at all," said Dotty. "I would rather fall. What have we done to you, that you should treat us all like this?"

"Oh, nothing," came the quick reply. "But I'm the ruler in the sky. Besides, why worry, child, as long as nothing goes amiss."

The wind man blew the Tinnies round, and Dotty said, "Where are we bound? I hope you do not blow us up so high that we'll get lost."

"We've had a lot of rides in air, but for this one we do not care. It really takes my breath away each time we're dipped and tossed."

"Oh, don't you worry," cried the man. "I'm like a big electric fan. When things appear in front of me, I blow them 'round and 'round."

"You are a funny sight to see. That's why this stunt appeals to me. When I get tired of blowing, you will float back to the ground."

"But how soon will you get tired out?" the wind man heard Duncy shout. "Oh, maybe in a week or so," he answered with a grin.

A girl as pretty as a picture can still be in a bad frame of mind.

DERBARDT'S LIFE WILL BE TOLD ON RADIO

The life of Sarah Bernhardt, dramatized in a series of broad-casts to be presented 26 weeks and entitled "The Divine Sarah," will begin on KREG tomorrow night and continue each Sunday at 8:30 p. m.

The serial, said by California Broadcasting System officials to be one of the outstanding radio attractions to be presented this year in Southern California, has been dramatized by Edward Lynn, rising young author who has chafed up many outstanding plays in radio. In the attempt to give listeners the best possible production, C. B. S. officials have engaged the services of Oliver Morosco to produce the serial from Lynn's scripts.

The entire action of the life of Sarah Bernhardt will take place in two rooms. This idea, according to radio critics, indicates a transition from radio to the theater for production methods.

Lucille La Pointe, Robert Frazer and a stellar cast of artists will be heard in this feature series.

AUTHOR'S CORNER IS BACK ON AIR

The California Broadcasting System has reinstated the "Author's Corner," featuring Francois de Broutelle, who has heard some weeks ago as "The Poet Painter." He is now reading the sensational novel "I Go Nursing," from the pen of Corinne Johnson Kern.

Broutelle is not only a poet who can boast of having several books of poetry published, but he is also a widely known painter, incidentally, he is also a musician and an archaeologist to boot! All of which adds to his radio interest and popularity.

RADIO FEATURES

Time References are Pacific Standard Time

The development of American sculpture, from its beginning in New England carpenter shops, will be traced in the Art in America program over an NBC transcontinental network, including KPO, at 8 this evening.

With Fritz Mueller, yodeler, as featured vocalist, a lively program of characteristic song and dance tunes will be presented by the Italian Peasant band, Karl Weiss directing, during the broadcast over an NBC transcontinental network, including KPO, at 5:20 this evening.

Proceedings of a regular session of the "Little Congress" will go on the air for the first time at 5:30 this evening, over KPO. The "Little Congress" is composed of the secretaries of congressmen, and meets weekly in Washington to discuss current matters.

"The Munitions Problem" will be the subject of a discussion by Ralph MacAllister Ingersoll, managing editor of Fortune, over the Columbia chain, including KJH, at 8:45 this evening. Attention has been focused on the activities of the world's armament industries as the result of an article entitled "Arms and the Men," in the March issue of Fortune. Its publication was termed the "greatest sensation since the World War," by Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, and the interest it has evoked has prompted a leading publisher to bring the article out in booklet form. "Arms and the Men" has resulted in repercussions both here and abroad. Senators Morah and Nye made speeches about the book in Congress, and the latter, in addition to having had the entire article read into the Congressional Record, is co-operating with the National Council for the Prevention of War in the distribution of 50,000 reprints to ministers, educators, journalists and peace workers. It has been quoted in part by more than a hundred American and Canadian newspapers and by numerous radio news commentators. Ingersoll's talk will deal with the various proposals forwarded to combat the situation described by the author of the article.

Joe Cook, famous stage comedian, who is heard on the air only on infrequent occasions, will be the guest at the House Party broadcast over an NBC network, including KJH, at 6 tonight.

Grete Stueckgold, concert soprano, singing with the Andre Kostelanetz orchestra and chorus, will feature Gounod's "Ave Maria" during her program over the Columbia network, including KJH, at 6 tonight.

Roy Helton, noted author and poet, will be heard in the first of a new series of programs entitled "Looking at Life," at 6:30 tonight, over the Columbia network, including KJH. Each Saturday at that time Helton will indulge in informal quarter-hours of humorous and philosophical flights of thought, letting his conversation turn to whatever subject it will.

Jacques Fray and Mario Braggiotti, well-known piano duo, will feature a new arrangement of Beethoven's exquisite "Moonlight" Sonata during their recital over the Columbia chain, including KJH, at 6:45 tonight.

KREG NOTES

Topics of the sermons to be delivered by the Rev. Frank E. Lindgren, pastor of the Calvary church of Santa Ana, during the services tomorrow are as follows:

11 a. m.: "Possessing All things Worth While."
7:30 p. m.: "One Who Cannot Be Fooled."

Both services will be broadcast from KREG. The evening service will be preceded by a program of the Roosevelt Hotel String Ensemble, starting at 7 o'clock.

Earl F. Wilde, who conducts the "Beautiful Thoughts and Beautiful Songs" program, a C. B. S. feature on KREG daily except Saturday and Sunday from 9:30 to 10 a. m., is the same Earl F. Wilde who was so successfully successful some years ago as a recording artist in the east. Few of his records were brought to California.

A mixed quartet augments Wilde in his morning broadcasts. At this time of year many gardeners are usually having trouble with moles, gophers and other rodents. How to eliminate them will be told in tomorrow's discussion of "Rodent Control," 12 noon on KREG by Ethelbert Johnson, deputy agricultural commissioner for Orange county.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, April 21 (UP)—Stocks fluctuated irregularly today as the dollar rose to new low levels since its official devaluation early in the year.

For a time the dollar was at levels which would make profitable export of gold to Europe. It rallied quickly, however, and toward the close of the stock market it was again above the gold shipping point. Meanwhile there was considerable uncertainty as to the government position with regard to further gold price advances. It was averse to a change at this time and it was likewise against a silver legislation.

DANCE HALL PROBLEMS INVOLVE MANY RIGHTS

There is a very serious complaint concerning the dance hall being operated at Fourth and Van Ness streets. The story of the complaints from residents in that neighborhood, as they were made before the city council, was carried in The Register on Tuesday of this week.

We are certain that our city council can be relied upon to protect the residents against any nuisance over which they have any power of jurisdiction. They have jurisdiction over a dance hall, for at best it is a mere privilege that is granted by the council. There is nothing inherently out of place in the dance hall. But, in the case of this particular dance hall, it has become a public nuisance. Somewhere between the proprietor of the dance hall and the law enforcement officers there has been laxness and indifference to legal and moral standards which have made this dance hall a public nuisance.

It does seem that the institution could be conducted in such a manner as not to give the residents of the section in which the dance hall is located, even though it is a business district, the right to complain, which they have very certainly had up to date. Either the dance hall proprietor is catering to a group with which the police force cannot cope, or else there is some failure of the police force to do its duty. It may be a combination of both. There is no question but that the immediate cause is due to drunken and irresponsible people. But if that class of people is attracted to any particular place in a neighborhood, and the place is the immediate cause of that class being brought together, there is only one thing to do, and that is to abate the cause. If it is maintained as a public nuisance, the council will be forced to close it, in order to protect the rights of citizens to a decent community.

The nuisance might be abated by the police force arresting all who are in a drunken condition, and running them in. It might be abated by the operator of the dance hall himself. He could do it by conducting his place under such stringent and rigid rules that people who have been drinking could find no admission to his place. He could establish the rule that no one of tender age and no one with the odor of alcoholic liquor on his breath and no one with a bottle in his pocket would be admitted to the hall. If such rules were established, instantly that class of people would be drawn elsewhere for a dance.

There are dances being conducted in this city with just as rigid rules as those. There has been no complaint of those dances, and as long as such rules are adhered to there will be no complaint. But when a proprietor does not seem disposed to govern his hall by such rules, and is admitting this class of people, and thereby making his place a rendezvous for those who make the whole community a nuisance, the only protection that can be afforded the neighborhood is for the city council to act and deprive the dance hall proprietor of the right to conduct a business and therefore destroy his business, which is not inherently a bad business, but a business which has been so badly conducted that it has become obnoxious to the community, meriting complaint from them as a public nuisance.

THE RISE OF ART IN RUSSIA

When the revolution took place in Russia, and the great emphasis was laid upon material production; when the patrons of art were killed or driven out of the country, and when the struggle for survival became the primary concern of the people of the country, it was said that art would die in Russia, and the country would lapse into cultural decline.

That has all been dispelled. Reports from Russia are that there has been a great revival of the opera and the theater, and that men and women who, under the old regime, never were interested in either are now crowding the theaters and the opera. More leisure, the reduction of the cost of admission, have made it possible to gain a much larger patronage.

A competent observer reports that there is no nation in the world which offers the people a larger opportunity to enjoy art than does Russia today. The result is that music, the cinema, the stage, and the pictorial arts are experiencing a marvelous revival. Moscow, with a population of 3,500,000, has five opera houses, three opera theaters, two opera-drama houses, and fifty dramatic theaters—all professional. Compare that with the struggle the New York Symphony and the Metropolitan opera are having for existence.

In Mexico, since the regime of Porfirio Diaz, a similar revival of art is taking place. Those who have been in Mexico City within the last few years have been amazed at the mural decorations in the new buildings erected in recent years, the revival of native music, and the restoration of some of the ancient architectural treasures of the country.

The liberation of a people from an age-long tyranny, as in Russia and in Mexico, always brings out latent powers and desires which make for a richer life. Europe had that experience when the feudal system broke down. We here in this country are already beginning to feel it now that we are impressed as never before with the great truth that "a man's life consists not in the abundance of the things which he possesses."

AN IMPORTANT ADDRESS

At 5:45 tonight the Columbia network will broadcast an address by Ralph MacAllister Ingersoll, editor of Fortune, on the Munitions problem which will be well worth hearing. In March this magazine carried an article on the business of munitions manufacture as the first attack of that magazine against the evil of profit in war. Beverly Nichols, in his book, "Cry Havoc," has presented similar startling facts. The greatest evil of the horrible business of war is that there are those who profit from the sale of munitions. It is human nature to promote business where there is profit. And the manager of a business promotes the sales of his business in order to bring in greater dividends for the greedy stockholders.

It is almost inconceivable to some people that there would be others who would deliberately promote war in order to increase the business in the instruments of death and destruction. It may be that such folks are too naive. But they are the finest folk in the world because such terrible cruelty is so far from their own line of conduct. It is for them to inform themselves of the facts which undoubtedly Mr. Ingersoll will bring out tonight, and which Mr. Nichols and others have brought out so that steps may be taken to eliminate profit from war.

Girls, beware of falling in love with men who have flat heads, says a British woman surgeon. Better fat heads than flat heads, eh?

RIOTS REPORTED IN FRANCE

News reports from France indicate that Communist riots have broken out in that city. In Germany and Austria such news has been the first step of the program ending in the establishment of the Fascist regime. Ultra-conservative forces fearful of too great a tide of public opinion to the radical side instill in the minds of people the idea that there is an overwhelming wave of Communism sweeping over the country, and in that way drive them to what they consider the lesser of the two evils: Fascism or Communism. Both of these "isms" are so remote in feeling and outlook from the innate individualism of the Frenchman as to ultimately be obnoxious to him.

Conquistadores' Trail

The Panama Canal is one of the great commercial highways of the modern world; and yet it is said that to parallel the feat of a battalion of American pack artillery, which has just succeeded in marching from one end of the canal to the other, it is necessary to go back to the days of the Conquistadores or the English buccaneers. Perhaps no military expedition of equal size has made that transit since the time when Sir Henry Morgan sacked Panama Vieja in 1671. Naturally, one neglects the troops that are regularly shuttled back and forth over the railroad; but outside of the railroad and the canal itself there is no means of passage, not even a trail, from the Atlantic to the Pacific side of the Panama Republic. The Second United States Artillery found themselves contending with the same heart-breaking jungles and uncharted mountains which confronted the quitted conquerors who first came that way four hundred years ago.

The paths they explored, moreover, have been lost. The early way was up the Chagres River in Indian dugout canoes (they are still used on the upper reaches) to a point somewhere near the present site of the Madden Dam, whence it was comparatively easy to cut a trail to the Pacific. After the founding of Panama in 1619, a paved mule-trail was laid down through the jungles to the eastward of this route. From Panama, it led back past the headwaters of the Chagres, through the mountains and so down to the great ports of Nombre de Dios and Porto Bello, whence the galleons went home to Spain with the tribute of the Indies. When Drake arrived in 1572, he came by the Nombre de Dios trail; Morgan, a century after him, followed the river. Now the river has been allowed in Gatun Lake, and only a few fragments of the paved trail have been discovered, buried in the jungle that long since covered the route.

From the Atlantic to the Madden Dam on the Chagres the American artillerymen apparently cut an entirely new route—over which it is hoped to build a trans-isthmian highway. (From the dam into Panama the highway is complete.) The new highway should be a convenience to the Republic, which at present is unable to communicate with itself except over the railroad. It should also improve the defensive system of the zone. Today an interruption to the canal and the single track beside it is all that is necessary to isolate the garrisons at one end from those at the other.

Under The Curse

San Francisco Chronicle

According to news stories printed on the departure of Robert Murnau for the South Seas, the purpose of his trip is to look into a matter of a wood-curse laid upon his brother, Fred Murnau, a director who made a film of Tahiti about three years ago. The tale goes that native priests put the curse on Murnau because he built a house over the burial ground of ancient chieftains. Murnau came back and was killed in an automobile accident near Monterey.

It will be interesting to see whether the automobile accident can be traced back to the Tahitian priests' curse. But that will open another problem, to explain why so many others who never saw Tahiti have been killed in automobile accidents near Monterey and elsewhere.

As with the Tutankhamen tomb excoavators, once Murnau fell under a curse it was just a matter of time. The King Tut excoavators are supposed to have incurred an ancient curse. Several have died, and if they wait long enough all will pass on. But just what ancient curse is supposed to rest on all the other people who die in the meantime?

IT CAN'T BE DONE

On learning that there are organizations which enable people to kill time.

I'm told that many a millionaire, Who has both time and wealth to spare, Knows not a way By which he may Select an avocation. He's spent his life amassing gold, And now that he's infirm and old He fain would find Some wholesome kind Of rest and recreation.

I'd like to meet this kind of man. For I could teach him how he can Find many ways To spend his days Without a shade of boredom. I know exactly what to do To keep my skies forever blue, But joys come high And therefore I Cannot, alas, afford 'em.

But, when he'd spent a week or so In going where he'd like to go, And lived a life Aloof from strife Where days are always sunny, I'm sure he shortly would exclaim, "This isn't any kind of game For big he-men Like me!" and then Go back to making money.

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

THE COUNTY MUST GO

My train is about an hour and a half out of Los Angeles. I have been scanning the papers from the coast. My eye is caught by a full-page article advocating the reduction of California's fifty-eight counties to five.

I venture no judgment on the details of this particular plan. California may need two counties or twenty for all I know. It is clear to me, however, that the whole system of local government throughout the United States is covered wagon politics in an airplane age.

The scheme of county government was devised in the days of bottomless mud roads and one-horse buggies. There were no telephones when the county scheme was planned. No radio. No automobiles. No airplanes. The units of government had to be small.

Men were then tethered tightly to their neighborhoods. There was little travel. Neither the citizens of decent habits nor the criminal on plunder bent played very far from the base. Commerce and crime and government were, then, in the very nature of things, excessively local in character.

All that is changed now. It is impossible to guarantee equal educational opportunity to all children in all communities in our states until we radically revise our county system.

It is impossible adequately to handle the problem of the roving criminal until we radically revise our county system.

It is impossible to bring the costs of government down to the level of productive investment until we radically revise our county government.

We can have cheaper government.

We can have more schools and better.

We can handle the problem of crime more effectively.

But, before we can do all this, we must dismantle our obsolete, wasteful and inefficient system of local government.

SECRET PAIN

Childhood and youth are not the flowery beds of ease fond memory would like us to believe. We all long to forget pain and humiliation and failure so it is easy to see why we look back upon childhood rosy with color and jeweled with delight. If memory were allowed to bring out its secret pains we could scarcely bear them in the days of our maturity. Our endurance has been tried too far.

Children suffer in learning to live with us. Not so much physically though they suffer plenty that way, too, as mentally. They are for the most part inarticulate. They lack words to define what they feel. They fear to tell what they think and feel instinctively discerning that we are going to object violently to what they would say should they say it. Their lives for a greater part are lived behind a veil of silence where sorrow dwells for many a lengthened minute.

Did you ever catch a sudden gleam of fear in the eyes of a child? Have you ever seen a flash of light illumine his whole being? Perhaps you have seen a mask slip over his face, an invisible but enveloping mantle hide him from view? If you have studied children even a little you must have seen those changes and been baffled, not to say distressed by them. If you asked him "What?" he said, "Nothing," and beyond that you could not go.

The child had retreated to his citadel and you might knock your knuckles raw without gaining entrance.

It is not that I would force an entrance to the spirit of a child that I point this out to teachers and parents today. It is that I would remind you that beyond the surface life of the child that lies so clearly before you there is a light that only the eye of the spirit can vision. If you have that eye you can companion your child or pupil along the Pilgrim path. If you haven't it he goes his way alone and you do not know him, you cannot help him.

But it is about the pain that children endure in silence that I would have you consider. Did you ever stop to think of what went on in the mind of a sensitive child while he sat waiting to be called on to recite? Maybe he will get that hard one. If he does, he is lost. If only the teacher won't notice him. He makes himself as small as he can. He reduces himself to a tense stillness. Almost up to him now and he hasn't asked that question. Surely he will ask it now. No. One more boy and it is his turn. It's coming. His hands are wet now. His tongue cleaves to the top of his mouth. He licks his dry lips. It's upon him. What was it he was asking? The date of Washington's Crossing—Christmas Eve, seventeen hundred and seventy-seven. Glory hallelujah. He wipes his hands on his handkerchief and wipes them again. Draws a long breath and peeks about the corners of his eyes. It is almost safe to venture out again.

During that few minutes he has lived hours of anxiety. He is as tired as though he had done a heavy job. He makes no outward sign that the casual watcher sees. But he has had another experience and he has grown in some direction, a more seasoned growth. There are such things as mental growing pains and they are very keen to the sufferer. Will you remember when next you look at an impassive child that behind that mask there is lively turmoil, and pain, and joy, and straining growth.

(Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three-cent stamped, addressed envelope for reply.)
